Authorization to Release Information for Extension Advisory Council Members

The College of Agriculture and Natural Resources (AGNR), as a business entity and recipient of federal financial assistance, delivers educational programming and leading research. Through the framework of the University of Maryland Extension (UME), Extension Advisory Committees (EAC) are formed and comprised of a wide range of professionals, community leaders, and other key stakeholders with a vested interest in UME.

UME and EAC members alike may often be encouraged to promote the availability and accessibility of our programs and services offered, public events and activities, recognize internal staff and or community members, acknowledge achievements, and celebrate local, state and national accomplishments that may be publicized on our website.

Moreover, in demonstrating the educational or promotional purposes expressed above, UME is requesting our partners' permission to release the following information:
